

To all of our valued customers,

We have just been informed by NYS Governor Cuomo, that all non-essential businesses in NYS must close as of 8pm tonight.

Those employees that can work from home are encouraged to do so. Many of our staff can work from home, but many cannot.

Obviously, this will be the last day we will be able to ship out orders, until further notice.

On Monday morning, our phone calls will be diverted to staff members working at home, so we will still be able to provide technical support, provide quotes, on a limited basis, and YES even accept orders, although we will not be able to ship those orders until we receive the 'all-clear' from our Governor.

You will still be able to reach us by phone, fax, email and online chat (on our website), during normal business hours.

We appreciate your understanding at this trying time. Most importantly, we want all of you, and our team to stay safe. We are all in this together, and hopefully this situation will be brief.

Thank you again for all of your support over these many years. We sincerely appreciate having you as a valuable customer.

Mark S. Goldberg
CEO/Founder
Alpha Communications