We believe it is essential to maintain regular communications with our business partners, especially during these challenging and uncertain times.

Atlas is working under best practices, as determined by the CDC, regarding in-person and on-site meetings. Your Atlas Sale Representative is available to support you through several options, including telephone, teleconferencing and video conferencing.

At this time, Atlas is not experiencing any delays in shipping. In large part, this is because we are an American company and we heavily source from U.S. partners. Atlas continues to confirm shipments to "Stay at Home" impacted states to ensure the customer is open and able to receive products.

In the fight against COVID-19, we are providing important lighting products to customers operating in critical infrastructure industries. These Essential Businesses include health care facilities, petroleum stations, grocery stores and convenience stores, among others. From existing healthcare facilities to proposed temporary field hospitals and other modular medical facilities and mobile medical stations, Atlas products are available to satisfy these applications.

We are proud of our long-standing relationship with your company, and we are here to help you any way we can. Our dedicated, U.S. based team stands ready to answer your questions and help you serve customers. If circumstances should change at any point, we will provide updates in a timely fashion.

Should you have any questions or wish to discuss this situation further, please visit our website or contact your Atlas representative directly.

Respectfully,

Seth Walters
President, Atlas American Lighting
