Coronavirus (COVID-19) Communication

Dear Valued Partner,

National Safety Apparel would like to inform all customers and valued partners of the steps we are taking to minimize the risk for our employees and partners.

Currently our manufacturing locations in Cleveland and Chicago are both open and fully operational. However, we have put a travel ban on our employees and are minimizing the number of visitors at all locations. We are asking that all currently scheduled meetings be made virtual until further notice.

We have enhanced our internal protocols and have expanded our own preparedness, as our employee's safety and health are of the utmost importance. We will provide updates as we determine if additional measures are needed at our locations.

We remain committed to servicing our customers. We will continue to closely monitor and evaluate the COVID-19 developing situation and take any steps necessary to minimize the risk to our employees and loyal partners.

If you have any questions, please contact your NSA Regional Sales Manager or do not hesitate to call us at 800-553-0672 to speak with a National Safety Apparel Customer Service Representative.

Thank you for your continued partnership and support of National Safety Apparel.
