

Dear Valued Customer,

This is an update to our earlier letter to you detailing our status relative to the Coronavirus. To date, we continue to manufacture and ship cable at our normal rates with no slowdown in activity. We continue to procure and inventory one year's worth of raw materials. Our corporate functions are all operational, and the company has implemented all appropriate social distancing policies and every other recommendation for procedures and mandates to minimize if not eliminate the potential for exposure to the virus by our employees. As an essential manufacturer under the CISA regulations of the Department of Homeland Security, Okonite does not anticipate any impediment to the continuation of our supplying the infrastructure which is so critical to the operation of the Railroad, and the functioning of the country's electrical grid. If you require anything further please let us know and we will respond immediately.
