The Governor of Pennsylvania has ordered that all Pennsylvania businesses that aren't "life sustaining" to close.

Since Uticom is a life-sustaining manufacturer, we are exempt from this order and will remain open.

As previously communicated, Uticom has an employee welfare strategy in place and will continue to follow and enhance the process in the coming weeks.

Welfare of Employees

The welfare of our employees is critical for business continuity. Uticom has implemented a detailed policy of a precautionary nature aimed at reducing the risk of infection at our facility. Practices such as work-place distancing, increased disinfection, enhanced hygiene and flexible medical leave have been implemented.

Business Continuity

In the case of infection, Uticom has a redundant facility capable of our full scope of manufacturing processes. Uticom also has a remote work capability covering the majority of our client service needs.

Raw Material Supply Chain

Uticom has a tiered system of suppliers to augment our ability to alternate source. Included in our supply chain is a number of local providers. We have been communicating with our suppliers to provide accurate forecasts based on current shifts in demand.

Accurate and Timely Updates

If Uticom's business practices are impacted, our leadership will provide timely and accurate updates on our ability to supply clients.
